my king, my God thou art, Let me not stray,
my kyng, my God thou art, Let me not stray:
my kyng, my God thou art, Let me not stray:
my kyng, my God thou art, Let me not stray:

from thee a - way: to thee I ____ pray in hart.
from thee a - way: to thee I ____ pray in hart.
from thee a - way: to thee I ____ pray in hart.

3. My uoyce and uowe : thou wilt alowe, betymes O Lord so frée :
In spring of day : I thée will pray,
and shall looks up to thée

4. This I may uow : the God art thou, which hatest all wickednes :
No malice fell, with thée can dwell, thou louest no cruelnes.

5. Such foolish spite : can bide no fight, of thy good louely face :
Thou doost defie : their uanitie,
who wickednes embrace.

6. Thou shalt destroy : and them annoy, with lies who shame thy worde :
Bloudthirsty men : which craft renne,
the Lord hath them abhorde.

7. Iust will I go : thy house into,
in truft of thy great grace :
In feare I will : do honour still,
against that holy place.

8. O Lord be guide : defend my fide, in thy great righteoufnesse :
Make playne the way : lesse I do stray, my foes shall brag the lesse.

9. Their mouthes expresse : no faithfulnesse, theyr holow hartes be uayne :
Wide throte they haue : as open graue,
theyr tongue but lyes do fayne.

10. Destroy their thought : O God for nought, theyr owne wayes be theyr shame : Expell them out : in lies so stout,
who thus blasphem thy name.

11. Let them reioyce : that truft thy uoyce, aye thankes they shall extend :
Who loue thy name : shall ioye the same, thou doost fo them defend.

12. Thou Lord wilt than : geue rightwise man, the heauenly blisse from thence :
Thy fauour kynde : is not behynde,
as them with shiled to fence.

To God on hye : in Trinitie, in unitie agayne : Reigne, power, and prayfe : As
due alwayes,
to hym be giuen, Amen.
