Basses solo:

Last night I heard the Dog-Star bark
 Mars met Venus in the Dark,
 Leaping Vulcan het an Iron-Bar,
 And furiously did run at the God of War,
 Mars with his Weapon laid about,
 But Vulcans Temples had the Gout,
 His broad horns did so hang in his sight,
 He could not see to aim his Blows aright:

Tenors solo:

Mercury the Nimble Post of heaven,
 Laid still to see the Quarrel,
 Gorrel bellied Baccus Gyant-like,
 bestri'd a strong Beer Barrel:

B:

To me he drank,
 I did him thank,
 But I could get no Syder,
 He drank whole Buts,
 Till he crackt his Guts,
 But mine were ne'r the wider.

Tutti:

Poor naked Tom is very dry,
 A little drink for Charity:
 Hark I hear
 Acteon's Hounds,
 The Huntsman whoops and Hollows,
 Ringing Royster,
 Bowman Jowler

At the chase now follows:

B:

The man in the Moon Drinks Clarret,
 With Powder beef Turney and Carret,
 A Cup of Old Mallago Sack,
 Will fire the Bush at his back.

Editorial notes to melody and lyrics:

The melody is found in several editions of John Playford's "The English Dancing Master" beginning with the 1670 edition.

The Lyrics are found in at least two different Broadside sheets:

- An undated print (Roxburghe 1.299) in the Roxburghe collection (in the British Library). This print contains only the two verses printed here.
- And a print (Pepys 1.502-503) dated 1681 - 1684. in the Pepys collection (in Magdalene College, Cambridge). This print contains also a Second part; "The Man in the moon drinks Clarret" of three stanzas length.
