

Laindon

Transcribed from Harmonia Americana, 1791.

1. No songs of triumph now be sung, Cease all your sprightly airs; Let sorrow silence every tongue, And joy dissolve to tears. If at this sight we

2. See where fortunately for us, Our bleeding Savior nailed! Ah see, while death he suffers thus, How much our sins prevailed. If still contrition

Tr. 1. don't re - pent, What other sight can move? Un - grate - ful should we not relent, And pay such love, with love?

T. 2. is for - got, And we our sins re - tain; As far as it concerns our lot, He yet but died in vain.

B.

Edited by B. C. Johnston, 2016

1. Sixteenth grace-notes following converted to regular sixteenth notes in measures 11 and 16.
2. Treble and Tenor parts exchanged.
3. Stanzas numbered 2, from J. Gleave. 1806. A Collection of Hymns and Spiritual Songs upon Several Occasions: For the Use of St. John's Church, Manchester. Manchester, [England]: S. Russell.