- 1 Beāti omnes qui timent Dóminum,
qui ámbulant in viis eius.
- 2 Labóres mánuum tuárum quia manducábis:
beátus es, et bene tibi erit.
- 3 Uxor tua sicut vitis abúndans
in latéribus domus tuae;
filii tui sicut novéllae olivárum
in circuítu mensae tuae.
- 4 Ecce sic benedicétur homo
qui timet Dóminum.
- 5 Benedícat tibi Dóminus ex Sion,
et vídeas bona Jerúsalem
ómnibus diébus vitae tuae.
- 6 Et vídeas filios filiórum tuórum:
pacem super Ísrael.

Psalm 127 (Vulgate)

- 1 *Blessed are all they that fear the Lord:
and walk in his ways.*
- 2 *For thou shalt eat the labours of thine hands:
O well is thee, and happy shalt thou be.*
- 3 *Thy wife shall be as the fruitful vine:
upon the walls of thine house.*
- 4 *Thy children like the olive-branches:
round about thy table.*
- 5 *Lo, thus shall the man be blessed:
that feareth the Lord.*
- 6 *The Lord from out of Sion shall so bless thee:
that thou shalt see Jerusalem in prosperity
all thy life long.*
- 7 *Yea, that thou shalt see thy children's children:
and peace upon Israel.*

Psalm 128 (BCP)

Biographical information on Nicolas Gombert may be found at <https://www.ensemblgombert.com.au/who-we-are>. Gombert's setting of Psalm 127(V) provided the model for one of his ten surviving mass settings, and was evidently popular in its day, appearing in at least five printed collections from leading publishing houses across Europe.

Editorial Notes:

The four printed sources published during Gombert's lifetime were consulted in preparing this edition. The sources exhibit typical minor variances in word underlay and rhythm, but are largely concordant other than as noted throughout this edition. Worthy of special mention are the melodic tritones in mm.95–98: these are practically unavoidable, as any attempt to correct them through lowering of the upper note only leads to unwanted secondary consequences. Such instances are not uncommon in the music of Gombert and his Franco-Flemish contemporaries, contrary to proscriptive theoretical treatises.

This edition is set a tone lower than the original notated pitch. Part names are as per the earliest source: Tenor Secundus is notated above Tenor [Primus] due to its higher original clef. Editorial accidentals are indicated above the note. Original note values are retained: thus, consistent with 16th-century convention, the  $\text{C}$  mensuration sign and its modern-equivalent  $\text{C}$  time signature signify a semibreve tactus. Bar lines are added only to aid reading and direction: 'strong' and 'weak' beats implied by their position should never take precedence over phrasing or word stress. Ligatures and colouration in the source are acknowledged with overarching square brackets and open 'corner' brackets respectively. Word underlay reflects editorial judgment and is freely adjusted: editorial re-iteration of text not explicit in any source is indicated in italic. Editorial conjoining or subdivision of notes, where considered necessary for word underlay, is respectively indicated with a dashed tie or with cue-sized notes.
