

Denbigh

Tr. ⁵ ¹⁰

1. God counts the sorrows of his saints, Their groans af- fect his ears; Thou hast a book for my ___ com-plaints,
 2. In thee, most ho-ly, just, and true, I have re-posed my trust; Nor will I fear what man ___ can do,
 3. Thou hast secured my soul from death, O set thy prisoner free! That heart and hand, and life ___ and breath,

C.

T. ⁸

1. God counts the sorrows of his saints, Their groans af- fect his ears; Thou hast a book for my ___ com-plaints,
 2. In thee, most ho-ly, just, and true, I have re-posed my trust; Nor will I fear what man ___ can do,
 3. Thou hast secured my soul from death, O set thy prisoner free! That heart and hand, and life ___ and breath,

B.

Tr. ¹⁵ ²⁰

1. A bottle for my tears, ___ A bottle for my tears, A bottle for my tears.
 2. The offspring of the dust. ___ The offspring of the dust, The offspring of the dust.
 3. May be employed for thee. ___ May be employed for thee, May be employed for thee.

C.

1. A bottle for my tears, ___ A bottle for my tears.
 2. The offspring of the dust, ___ The offspring of the dust.
 3. May be em-ployed for thee, ___ May be em-ployed for thee.

T. ⁸

1. A bottle for my tears, ___ A bottle for my tears, ___ A bottle for my tears.
 2. The offspring of the dust. ___ The offspring of the dust, ___ The offspring of the dust.
 3. May be employed for thee, ___ May be employed for thee, ___ May be em-ployed for thee.

B.

1. A bottle for my tears, ___ A bottle for my tears, A bottle for my tears.
 2. The offspring of the dust. ___ The offspring of the dust, The offspring of the dust.
 3. May be employed for thee, ___ May be employed for thee, May be employed for thee.